

MERITUS Interim Management

Sharp-witted pragmatists – Reaching targets with experience

Our requirements for any collaboration with an interim manager, is a profound understanding of the respective function and industry as well as strong communication skills. We cooperate with experienced top executives, who share the mentality and values of MERITUS. We only consider interim managers with many years of experience and excellent project references.

Cooperation – Personal partnership

High quality of work and measurable profit improvements are the basis of every cooperation for us. We make a shared performance promise to our clients and often work together in mixed teams of consultants and interim managers alike. Therefore, personal exchange and continuous feedback are very important to us when collaborating with interim managers.

Our selection process – quality instead of quantity

As an interim manager you can introduce yourself unsolicited to us. After matching your professional focus, we place great emphasis on a personal exchange. In order to subsequently enable valid project matching, we record your individual profile and talk to your references. Before any project assignment, we create the contractual basis for our cooperation. During a client project we are in regular exchange with you. To conclude with any completed project we always undertake a joint reflection with the client.

If you have any questions or are interested in a collaboration with us, please contact us at interim@meritus-advisors.de for a personal exchange.
